

AI you can defend to a regulator and in court.

As NAIC scrutiny of AI rises, a finding is only as defensible as the person who signs it.

Roof condition is a top driver of property loss and one of P&C's most disputed lines — usually assessed late or inconsistently, so a thin file becomes a disputed claim.

The method is built so every finding is one I can defend in writing — the standard I sign to.

STAMPED METHODOLOGY • A. ABDILLAHI

CREDENTIAL → CONTROL → RECORD

Your credentials, wired to the controls that make a finding hold up — defensible to a regulator and in court.

METHOD Capture to condition-of-record

INSTRUMENT-GRADE • 48-HOUR TARGET

CAPTURE

Aerial thermal + visual, flown in the solar window when thermal contrast is real.

ANALYZE

Anomalies ranked SEV-1/2/3, each confidence-scored; under 0.80 routes to human review.

RECORD

A geolocated, time-stamped condition-of-record; re-scans track degradation velocity.

Imagery is one input, never the sole basis for a decision — the record states what it rests on, so it holds up to a regulator or in court.

DELIVERABLE A severity-ranked condition brief on a 48-hour target — pre-season baselines, post-event documentation, an underwriting condition input, and renewal-time re-assessment.
